So what if 40 of the views are my own ;-), I've finally got a video up on YouTube with more than 1,000 views.

Yes, the 'EV + PV Love Story' video I did highlighting the joys and wonders of the synergy between solar energy and EVs, in this case my brother's Tesla Model, is a true 'hit'.

<script type="text/javascript"><!-- google_ad_client = "pub-7703542917199961"; /* 200x200,

google_ad_slot = "7950368454";
google_ad_width
= 200;
google_ad_height = 200;
//-->
</script>
<script

</script>
 {/googleAds}

Okay, so maybe 1,000 views doesn't constitute true YouTube "hit" status – but it's nice to see nonetheless. And I bet if I'd been smart enough to include Tesla Model S in the title of the video, when I first posted it about a month ago, it would have more views than it does now.

If you haven't seen 'EV + PV Love Story' yet, check it out [above]. I bet it puts a smile on your face, even if it isn't as polished as some of the other Model S ads out there ;-)
